ECMI Press Release

Georgia Good Governance for Minorities Training

A final joint training for the government officials, civil servants, minority council representatives and minority programme department of the Public Broadcasting Company is taking place in Tbilisi 17-18 February. During the training the participants will acquire skills in collaborative approaches to policy drafting, implementation, systemic structuring and negotiations in the areas of minority protection, culture and language preservation and participation in majority society. The training concludes a series of trainings provided under the Danida, Council of Europe and ECMI programme 2008-2009.
